

PROJECT MANAGEMENT / TRAINING

giving project 'owners' the process control training/tools that ensure success

A Sippel Glidden Project Management Training engagement can make the critical difference between your project's success and failure. Studies of project performance illustrate the likely difficulties – from outright failure to frequent restarts, cost/time overruns, and deficient end quality. Our PMP Certified Project Management consultants can train, support, and motivate your Managers/Teams to deliver the project results you expect and need.

We train staff and support projects across key control points, including:

- ▶ Project initiation and business case
- ▶ Developing the project charter and defining its scope
- ▶ Project infrastructure – supporting success with process, tools, techniques, and training
- ▶ Planning – gathering project requirements and estimating/scheduling
- ▶ Project governance and procurement
- ▶ Scope, schedule, and risk management – managing uncertainty and change
- ▶ HR support – defining/staffing the project team
- ▶ Project cost and risk management – budgeting, tracking expenditures, and mitigating risk
- ▶ Quality management – defining, measuring, and monitoring quality
- ▶ Communication – tracking project health and reporting status
- ▶ Selecting/Using project management software – Microsoft Office Project training
- ▶ Project failure – interventions to rescue/re-start the failing project

Our approach to Project Management training/support is flexible and advantaged because our skills extend beyond the training process itself – with decades of direct project implementation experience available for input and assistance.

We also provide 'topical' Project Management education/training courses at several levels:

- For Executives and Top Management – "Making Your Company Project-Based" and "Passing Judgment on Current Project Status"
  - For New or Experienced Project Managers – "Basic Project Management," "The Art of Project Management," and "Senior Project Management"
  - For All Employees – an Overview, "Introduction to Project Management"
    - Plus, an introduction to "Microsoft Office Project – A Perspective on PM Tools and Applications"
    - And, advanced MS Project courses tailored to the client's industry and user's level of expertise
